1. Title of the Practice

VALUE EDUCATION AND INDIAN CULTURE: HARNESSING RESPONSIBILITY AND POSITIVITY

2. Objectives of the Practice

An exemplary citizen is made, not born. It is important to be part of an education process that instills moral standards to create more civil and democratic societies. Value Education

- nourishes a student through purposive content-teaching and practice of socially relevant values.
- promotes respect and understanding for diversity beyond cultural, religious and ethnic differences.
- deepens knowledge of values such as justice, equality and dignity.
- encourages empathy, communication skills, teamwork and interaction with different people.
- promotes collaboration to find global solutions to problems and defend the collective good.
- stimulates creative and systematic analysis to identify different perspectives and angles to problems.

3. The Context

The college believes that students need to be trained not just for academic and professional success, but to be equipped with essential life skills and values needed to navigate through the various challenges of life.

Students taking admission in the college are on the brink of their adulthood. It is a delicate period of their lives when they need special attention and guidance to protect them from falling to vices and developing mental health issues. It is also that period when they are enthusiastic learners and so it provides the right window of opportunity to create awareness about national history, cultural heritage, constitutional rights, national integration, community development and environment.

It was also important to take the course beyond the confines of the conventional classroom so that the students could take part in various social service assignments that will help them to interact and mingle with the society at large.

4. The Practice

Describe the practice and its uniqueness in the context of Indian higher education. What were the constraints/limitations, if any, faced?

- In order to formalise the above idea, Raja Peary Mohan College started a 32 contact hours Certificate Course on Value Education and Indian Culture from the session 2018-19 in collaboration with Rama Krishna Mission Vivekananda Centenary College, Rahara under a Memorandum of Understanding, signed by both parties on 12th January 2019 on the Birthday of Swami Vivekananda.
- Students of all streams mandatorily pursue this course during their 2nd semester. The course is conducted by the Department of Philosophy. Classes are held once a week, every Saturday. They are accommodated within the routine in a way that do not interfere with the regular classes of the University syllabus. Beside theory classes, there are also practical classes where different social service assignments like working with the disabled, spending hours in a blind school, working for elderly in old age home, feeding the needy and poor, teaching in the slums, promoting awareness campaign of education hygiene, drug addiction etc. are given to the students.

- There is a text book for Value Education and Indian Culture, based on a structured syllabus, titled 'Jiban Sopan' (literally meaning 'the stepping stone of life'), published by the college. The syllabus is designed by both the colleges with both theory, practical and project work. The book is written in Bengali in order to reach out to maximum number of students.
- Constant monitoring is done through proper assessment procedure like attendance, individual leadership in practical session and project work.

An important aspect of value education system in India relates to the understanding of the Constitution of India. Values enshrined in it such as equality, fraternity and justice promote inclusivity among all members of the society irrespective of their colour, culture, economic or social background, caste, religion, gender or community. The National Curriculum Framework (NCF), 2005 and NEP 2020 strongly advocates values like cooperation, respect for human rights, tolerance, justice, responsible citizenship, diversity, reverence towards democracy and peaceful conflict resolution.

One of the constraints that the college faced is the integration of Value Education classes into the regular routine. The routine is already congested due to the introduction of CBCS semester system and later NEP 2020 syllabus. However, it could be resolved mainly due to the priority given by the college on the necessity of Value Education. There was also the issue regarding availability of classrooms as Value-Education classes needed to accommodate a large number of students but that was solved with the active help of the Routine Sub-Committee.

6. Evidence of Success

Provide evidence of success such as performance against targets and benchmarks, review/results. What do these results indicate? Describe in about 200 words.

- Students actively attend classes and perform all assignments. Hard data shows that in the last 5 academic years, 6,226 students directly benefitted from the course.
- Special interest is shown by them in the practical based project work where they do many social works on their own, starting from cleaning the college campus, teaching the slum children, helping their parents in households activities, visiting and working in the orphanage and old age homes.
- Many students enter college lacking self-confidence but graduated as confident, happy individuals who believe in their worth and effectively utilize the important soft life-skills that they have learnt in college. Reaching out to make a difference is taken seriously by all students and they extend their assistance to slums, NGOs, environmental issues and also spearhead relief program in times of natural calamities. They regularly participate and also organize blood donation camps, take part in various health awareness campaigns in and outside the campus. The best evidence of success is when they come back and say that they enjoyed the course and have learnt a lot to be a better human being. Support is provided by the faculty members of the Department of Philosophy and occasionally by external experts.

7. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Please identify the problems encountered and resources required to implement the practice (in about 150 words).

One of the problems faced was the difficulty of framing a holistic syllabus as there are none readily available. The teachers followed Martin Seligman and Christopher Peterson's inventory of strengths model of the famous Values in Action (VIA) Classification Project program (1998). However, the college felt that it needed the real time knowledge of experts who provide value education in Indian context with its unique mix of practicality and spirituality. The collaboration with Ramakrishna Mission Vivekananda Centenary College not only solved the conundrum but also provided a platform to create an innovative textbook (regularly updated and revised) for the course.

The college also faced trying times during the pandemic years, but it never stopped imparting Value Education. Initially the online mode was a bit unsettling, especially with respect to a course like Value Education, but with immense enthusiasm shown by the students, that obstacle was easily conquered.

7. Notes (Optional)

Please add any other information that may be relevant for adopting/implementing the Best Practice in other Institutions (in about 150 words). Any other information regarding Institutional Values and Best Practices which the university would like to include.

During the 1999 UNESCO General Conference, several Member States representatives expressed their concern about young children who did not receive the proper quality of education, or were not exposed to any education at all, or were part of communities where crucial values were being eroded, and their desire to find ways in which those values can be strengthened.

Building on this, UNESCO's Early Childhood and Family Education Unit launched, jointly with Living Values: An Educational Program, an international initiative on "Early Childhood and Values Education" in early 2000. Our holistic course tries to take inspiration from that charter, take it further and make Value education part of a students' daily life. It also ensures that values are inculcated through the touchstone of Indian culture, thereby making it relevant for students at our college.
